

SAFIA MENDEZ

Safia Mendez was born and raised in Kingston Jamaica and is a proud graduate of the Meadowbrook High School. Throughout her high school journey, she participated in a host of extracurricular activities and volunteer experiences and has spearheaded clubs such as the Interact Club (President), Girl Guides (Chief Secretary) and Business Club (Founder/President). Safia is from humble beginnings and so is very passionate about providing opportunities for all in areas of housing, health and education. She is currently working on a project known as Grassroots Jamaica which she hopes to combine her love for business and her passion for equity to help disadvantaged youths in Jamaica. Safia will attend the Saint Leo University in the fall where she hopes to pursue a degree in Marketing and become a part of the institution's Honors Program. She hopes that this will be a life changing experience where she will make lifelong connections that will propel her further in achieving her goals. The family, church and school community of Safia Mendez would like to extend their undying gratitude to the Atlanta Jamaica Association for their investment in her education and helping her to move further in her next stage of life!
